

For immediate release

Pre-Photographic History of the Straits of Mackinac
New from Wayne State University Press!

From the author of the award-winning Frontier Metropolis, A Picturesque Situation offers readers a comprehensive visual history of the straits of Mackinac in pre-photographic images. From the era of European exploration to the beginning of the Civil War, the Straits of Mackinac were a highway for the fur trade, a hotbed of military outposts, and one of the first settled areas of Michigan. Later, the natural beauty of the Straits, and particularly of Mackinac Island, led to the popularity of the area as a nineteenth-century tourist destination. A Picturesque Situation uses documents, maps, drawings, and prints to illustrate the unique history of the Straits from 1615 to 1860.

Beginning in the seventeenth century, Native Americans, soldiers, missionaries, traders, explorers, and scientists recorded their impressions of the Straits of Mackinac in letters, reports, diaries, books, and legal and financial documents. Military officers noted fortifications and topography, surveyors mapped boundaries, cartographers defined local geography, and travelers sketched scenery and local personalities. All of these rare and important glimpses of Mackinac before the age of the camera are elegantly presented in this oversized, full-color volume. The text of A Picturesque Situation complements its many images by detailing their history and incorporating the words and descriptions of people who visited or lived at the Straits before 1860.

BOOK INFORMATION:

Pub. Date: May 2008
9.5 x 11, 408 pages, 330 illustrations
ISBN 978-0-8143-3214-6,
$75.00s Cloth

Great Lakes Books Series

Although much has been written about the history of the Straits of Mackinac, most works focus on narrow aspects of its history. Michigan historians and those interested in life in the pre-Civil War United States will appreciate the broad and striking picture of the Straits painted by A Picturesque Situation.

###

Wayne State University Press
The Leonard N. Simons Building
4809 Woodward Avenue
Detroit, Michigan 48201-1309

For more information on this book or to interview the author, please contact Sarah Murphy, Promotions Manager, Wayne State University Press, (313) 577-6077 tel; (313) 577-6131 fax; murphysa@wayne.edu. To learn more about the Press, please visit wsupress.wayne.edu.

Phone: (800) WSU-READ
Fax: (313) 577-6131

wsupress.wayne.edu

